Santa-Approved Gifts for Grillers in 2020

Los Angeles, CA – Even Santa Claus knows his way around a barbecue and enjoys cooking for Mrs. Claus and all those hardworking elves. The Hearth, Patio and Barbecue Association members of the Pacific region are retailers happy to assist with the purchase of a barbecue (after all, that’s what he really wants) and any of the many accessories that make outdoor cooking fun.

Everyone from the novice to a grill master will welcome any of these gifts they can use year-round whether fueling with charcoal, wood, pellet or natural gas.

Magnetic grill spice rack: Keeps your favorite spices, rubs and sauces at their fingertips.

Grill drip pan liner: To catch greasy, drippy messes and make clean-up faster.

Barbecue grill light and lighted tongs: We all know barbecue continues both day and night!

Chimney charcoal barbecue starter: Get grillin’ faster!

Electrical fire starter: To light lump charcoal without starter fluid or matches

Fire extinguishing foam: For safety’s sake!

Grill brushes: All prices and shapes are available to clean the grates for next time.

Magnetic grill paper towel holder: Who wouldn’t appreciate this handy tool?

Ash bucket with shovel: you may have one of these beside the fireplace, but it’s necessary beside the barbecue, too.

Insulated cooking gloves: For safety and warmth on cold evening grilling.

Grilling basket: This is a must for vegetables. It keeps them from falling through the grate.

A meat thermometer: A must-have accessory to quickly and easily ensure that meat is fully cooked.

Sauces, spices and rubs: So many to choose from to enhance any meal.
